STUDIO GREYTAK UNIVERSE COLLECTION

The collection, which explores the intersection of natural and man-made design, was created by Studio Greytak, an art project based on the ideas of John Greytak. The collection is inspired by the "story of many worlds" such as Earth, sky, space and sea. The works will be placed in a specially lit room, immersing the viewer in a space where the walls simulate the Montana mountains at various times of the day, from sunrise to sunset.
