Studio Greytak is bringing the wonder of the Montana landscape to Salon Art + Design. The Montana-based studio, which centers gems and minerals in all its designs, will transform the Park Avenue Armory's Colonel's Room into an immersive experience. Large LED screens mimic floor-to-ceiling windows that give the illusion of lounging high on a secluded mountain or enjoying cocktails while sitting atop a pristine trout-filled river. Guests may also explore the Earth's tiniest landscapes with stunning views inside the heart of glittery opal or the endless dunes of a cloudy agate. It's an homage to the glorious Montana landscapes that inspire all of Studio Greytak's pieces.

Within this magical environment, Studio Greytak presents its Universe collection. This series explores the mysteries of our world through gems and minerals and their roles in Earth, Sky, Sea, and Space. Using these jewels of the Earth as a starting point, Studio Greytak mimics the tools of nature to create pieces that defy scale.
