THE LAUNCH COLLECTION BY STUDIO GREYTAK

Designer John Greytak's fascination with gemstones and other natural objects inspired a conceptual art project that evolved into a Montana-based business, Studio Greytak. His company crafts functional statement pieces that highlight the luminescence of gems and minerals. Their Launch Collection includes this Wenge Glacier Screen, made with a combination of 12 Brazilian agates and sustainably harvested wenge wood — both of which are said to provide protection and balance — along with solid black iron frames that ground the piece. Placed in front of a window, the agates catch natural light to create a tranquil setting and exhibit their organic beauty. This Daybed from the collection features Brazilian agate on both ends, claro walnut, leather straps, bronze fasteners, and a velvety cotton cushion, offering a rustic appeal that's solidly rooted in nature. The Launch Collection also includes one-of-a-kind light fixtures, tables, and mirrors. We love how these pieces artfully feature earthly elements while adding an elegant touch to the home.
